FEATURES

Value Based Education:

Camellia School has always aimed to provide a value based education where we hope to educate children to be compassionate, respectful and responsible. We urge the children to take part in environmental programs, social and productive work, motivate them to address issues that affect them and the world, to be better human beings than what they were yesterday.

Individual Attention:

We have a 20:1 student teacher ratio because we believe in quality over quantity. It gives us space to know the student as a single person, understand how and in what environments the child works best and see that he or she is given the opportunities to thrive. It also allows us to question and evaluate learning issues and motivate a child to do better.

Academics and Method of Teaching:

Camellia School focuses on qualitative, conceptual, sensory and demonstrative methods of teaching so that a lesson learnt stays with the child helping her or him to practically implement in a real world scenario. We have highly qualified and trained teachers who go on regular training programs to better their skills to deal with their subjects and wards in a holistic manner.

Personality Development and Extracurricular:

Camellia school believes in consistency and hard work as much as she applauds and covets talent. Securing good grades and fostering a child's mental, spiritual and emotional health is equally necessary. We have regular counseling and personality building activities during the school term. We believe in providing students ample opportunities to practice and explore their skills in various activities in the fields of music, art and craft, technology, dance, drama, public speaking, life sciences and social work.
